As strange as it sounds I really enjoyed studying for the tests. So much outside work is required & it's like having to find information for a research project. The extra effort can be a little stressful but overall it's very interesting.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

The readings in America compared. Haha. A few of them have been interesting though.

III. COMMENTS/SUGGESTIONS

14. What have you liked most about this course and why?

I like hearing Dr. Cook speak. He has a great voice & he knows his material well. He has a funny dark sense of humor.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

Having to conduct outside research has been difficult.

16. Other comments and suggestions.

I suggest that Cook put a greater emphasis on how important it is for students to start outside research early. His warning on the essay were ample.

III. COMMENTS/SUGGESTIONS

14. What have you liked most about this course and why?

Reading material is interesting since its not a traditional textbook. Professor is funny + keeps class attention.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

The tests! there is just too much to study for each test. He expects us to know and memorize too much for each exam, especially the final.

16. Other comments and suggestions.

way too much work for a 1000-level class, even for an honors course. The tests are too much because memorizing 50-60 ID items for each test, WITH outside info, is asking too much. People have other classes to worry about too

III. COMMENTS/SUGGESTIONS

14. What have you liked most about this course and why?

I really like how this course examines the motives, the trends in American history as opposed to just memorizing events (which is also required !!)

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

I thought it would be more helpful to read the readings after having the correlating lecture (ie. have the matching reading on the following class day). Also the amount of studying for this class (in terms of events, dates, and outside material) was ^{way} more than classes at that level. Also, I felt like having to find outside information on every event was way too much.

The reading quizzes have too great a potential to negatively affect a student's grade. They aren't always a good indicator of reading comprehension. The grading is somewhat arbitrary.

III. COMMENTS/SUGGESTIONS

14. What have you liked most about this course and why?

Dr. Cook knows so much that he can answer one's every question about anything in history. This course has taught me to search for information on things I need to know.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

Although Part I items require 150 words, in reality Dr. Cook prefers more. It is difficult to get a perfect score on these items, since 9 minutes is not enough time to write.

16. Other comments and suggestions.

He's been teaching for forty years; it's hard to know if there's anything he should change.
