

SUMMER SYMPOSIUM ON FOREIGN POLICY

JULY 31 – AUGUST 11

Join this program to discuss the events that are currently changing the foreign policy landscape.

This intensive program features specialized lectures led by high-ranking experts, distinguished scholars, and emerging professionals in international affairs.

To excel in the future, you will need not only to understand global issues, but also to put them in context in a changing landscape. Participating in the Summer Symposium on Foreign Policy will allow you to evaluate the complexities of key issues such as the situation of Ukraine and Russia, the Indo-Pacific strategy, and the role of Congress in international affairs as you listen to the program speakers share their expertise. You will also have an immersive experience as you visit Capitol Hill and you interact with students from multiple countries. You have the option of participating in person in the Professional Development Program.
