Position Summary:

Consider joining a dynamic social work program and experience diversity in action. The successful candidate is expected to teach courses in macro social work practice with formal organizations and systems, community organization, community development, social policy, and in quantitative and qualitative research methods. Additional responsibilities include curriculum development and field liaison responsibilities. The successful candidate is expected to actively participate in activities that will support the Department’s Social Welfare Evaluation, Research and Training Center agenda as well as his/her scholarly interest in community organization/development, policy practice, or other related fields of practice. Specific assignments will depend on departmental needs. The successful candidate may be called upon to instruct in an online teaching format and will be encouraged to develop web-enhanced and/or web-based instruction. Outcomes assessment and service learning are important components of the university curriculum.

Overview:

The Department of Social Work Education (DSWE) at Fresno State is specifically committed to student success and to the education of social workers at the bachelor's and master's levels who will provide social welfare services and leadership within the central San Joaquin Valley. Graduates of both programs intervene with individuals, families, groups, and other small systems as well as with human service agencies, voluntary organizations, neighborhoods, and communities. The Department is committed to enhancing both the quality of life in the region and the capacity of citizens to identify and address their own social welfare and social justice concerns and needs. To fulfill its mission in the region, the DSWE prepares social workers for agency and community-based practice and for informed, active participation as social workers and citizens who are compassionate and proactive in response to human needs.

Required Education:

An earned doctorate (PhD or DSW) in Social Work/Welfare or closely related discipline and a MSW from an accredited social work program are required for appointment. Qualifying degrees must be from an accredited institution or foreign equivalent. Candidates nearing completion of the doctorate (ABD) may be considered; the doctorate must be completed by the time of appointment (8/16/17).

Required Experience:

Candidates are required to possess the following qualities: 1) A minimum of 2 years post MSW practice experience; 2) Evidence of knowledge or teaching experience, in macro practice or policy practice curricula; 3) Evidence of knowledge or ability in teaching quantitative and/or qualitative research methods, as well as mixed methods; 4) An active research agenda or clear plan to establish such an agenda in macro social work practice modalities; 5) Evidence of interest and/or experience working within multicultural settings; and 6) Ability to demonstrate a commitment to working effectively with faculty, staff, and students from diverse ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic backgrounds.

Preferred Qualifications:

Preference will be given to the candidates who demonstrate the following qualities: 1) Experience working in a culturally diverse rural-urban environment with communities as well as complex service organizations utilizing multi-systems practice, integrative and multicultural approaches; 2) Experience and/or ability to engage with diverse organizations and communities to apply change strategies for social justice and human rights; 3) Capacity to plan, monitor, and evaluate community development strategies; 4) Demonstrated commitment to teaching, research, and scholarly activities particularly as they relate to macro practice work with communities, organizations, and related policy; and 5) An active interest in participating in or assuming leadership roles in the profession of Social Work (e.g., International, National or State organizations such as NASW, CSWE, ACOSA, ISP) or relevant professional organizations
