

Erin McClarty, JD

Erin has over 7 years in the social impact space, working with museums, county departments, tech startups and charities on issues ranging from copyrights, compliance or business operations to gifts, registrations and cause-marketing. With this all backed by her experience working around the world on other operational concerns like market entry, IP, supply chain management, licensing and contracting.

Erin also serves as a mentor, working with co-working and incubation programs in the social impact space. She sits on grants committees for local funders, speaks at national nonprofit and social enterprise conferences and manages her nationally recognized blog, Notations on Nonprofits.